STEEL WORKERS OUT IN VARIOUS PARTS OF THE COUNTRY

Companies Claim Only Small Percentage Are Out, Men Claim 90 Per Cent

Plants at Duluth Are Not Affected--Also Those at Atlanta, Georgia

OUTSTANDING FEATURES OF STEEL STRIKE

(By United Press)

- Cause of strike—Refusal to recognize unions.
- Demand of unions—Right to bargain for the workers as to their wages and working conditions.
- Approximate number of employees in 1918—268,710.
- Number of plants involved in the strike order—145.
- Territory covered by the strike—Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, W. Virginia, Wisconsin, Colorado and Alabama.
- Companies involved—United States Steel Corporation and its subsidiaries, including Carnegie Steel company with thirty-two plants, American Steel & Iron company thirty-five plants, American Bridge company fourteen, American Sheet & Tin Plate company 26.

Both capital and labor claim advantage in the first day of nationwide strike of steel workers. Judge Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation refused to make any statements, but steel company officials in the affected districts state that not more than 10 to 20 per cent had struck in the Pittsburgh district and that while a larger percentage struck in some local districts the strike was so far a failure to tie up the industry. Union officials declared the strike was effective and they believed that 200,000 men went out. Reports early this afternoon said that the strike was effective in Chicago, Ohio, Indiana and Colorado districts and partially effective in the great Pittsburgh district.

BY FRED S. FERGUSON, (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 22—The supreme test between organized labor and the United States Steel Corporation, the most powerful of organized industry in the country was on today.

Early reports based entirely on statements of the police of various centers in the Pittsburgh district, failed to show whether the walkout will develop into an American industrial war.

Up to 8 o'clock this morning no disorder had occurred in any of the towns reported to the national secretary here. Police were stationed at the mill gates in McKeesport, Clairton, Homestead, Braddock and other nearby points in the Pittsburgh district. At McKeesport the number of strikers were placed at five or six hundred, police estimated.

Each Side Claims Advantage.

BY FRED S. FERGUSON, (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 22—Strike leaders and steel company heads alike claim the advantage today when the strike was but a few hours old.

Wm. Foster, secretary of the steel workers committee, claims that the strike is 90 per cent effective. Steel company officials viewed the situation optimistically. They said not more than 15 per cent to 25 per cent had entered the strike cause.

It is roughly estimated that there are about 100,000 steel workers in Allegheny county so on the basis of the steel company's figures from 13,000 to 25,000 men are on strike.

At the Carnegie Steel company it was stated that not a single big mill was closed in the Pittsburgh district.

90 per cent of the American employees of their plants reported for work as usual, it was stated. All of those striking were foreigners and common laborers. A blasting furnace was closed down here and officials claim that not a single finishing mill was affected.

The Carnegie company is the largest of the steel corporation's subsidiaries.

No Strike in Duluth

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 22—Employees of the Minnesota Steel Corporation here did not strike early today. Officials said the employees are not organized. The iron range was not expected to be immediately affected by the steel strike, but mines may be closed if the strike in the east still continues. Great Lakes seamen at the head of the lakes are understood to have voted yesterday to strike in sympathy with the steel workers today. There was no action this morning pending word from national headquarters.

90 Per Cent Effective

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 22—William Foster, secretary of the steel workers committee, at 9 o'clock today claimed that the strike of men in steel plants of the country was 90 per cent effective.

This was true of the Pittsburgh district as well as other sections, Foster asserted.

Union police reported today a small percentage of workers in Homestead, Clairton, Braddock and other steel centers failed to report for work. Foster said his information was that but a few had entered the mills. He claimed 12,000 went out at Homestead.

"Practically none went to work in Clairton," Foster asserted.

He appeared highly pleased with the report so far received and predicted that the men who did not strike today will join the walkout tomorrow. He admitted his reports were as yet incomplete, and said it would not be possible to give any definite figures until later in the day. He announced today a meeting of the steel workers, of which he is secretary, and John Fitzpatrick is chairman, had been called for Wednesday in Pittsburgh.

May Stop Building.

St. Paul, Sept. 22—The steel strike if maintained may tie up the structural and building industries according to union leaders here today.

"As understood, if the steel companies send out scab material, we won't handle it, and if they scab on us, we will ask to quit," said Dave McKee, business agent for the structural and ornamental iron workers, reinforced concrete steel fitters and machine movers and riggers.

The steel strike and its effect will be discussed at a general meeting of steel workers and building trades council tonight, he said.

Miss Bessie E. Bisted, who was shot by Nick Christoff, has so far recovered as to be able to walk about. On Saturday afternoon she walked down town and in the evening was able to attend the show at the Best.

YE OLD TIME BALL

Being Planned by Chamber of Commerce for Halloween Night at Gardner Hall

An old-time dancing party, with "square sets," reels and "figures" is being planned by the house and social committee of the Chamber of Commerce, details of which will be made public soon.

The party will be held at Gardner hall on Halloween night, Oct. 31, and will be a public affair, with plenty of fun and frolic and music calculated to "lend merriment to their heels" and take some of the "old boys" back to the days when they "swung them around the waist" back "hum."

Prominent local people are keen for this kind of a party and the young folks will not be forgotten in the dance program. It will be "some party" if the plans of the committee work out as they are sure to. It will be well to plan accordingly and watch the local papers for the details of this, the coming big community ball and frolic of the season.

TO ORGANIZE

Parent-Teachers Organization to be Formed at the Lowell School on Sept. 23

The Parent-Teachers organization at the Lowell school will be held on Tuesday evening, Sept. 23, at the Lowell building at 8 o'clock.

Junior Class

The new Junior class of the Brainerd high school held their first class meeting last Monday evening for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. The electives were as follows:

President—Bruce Hayes.
Vice-Pres.—Clarence Sheffo.
Secretary—Hazel Alger.
Treasurer—Abner Swanson.
Reporter—Jone Rowley.

President Bruce Hayes immediately appointed the following committees:

Social—Irene Quinn, Hazel Alger, Rudolph Brecht, Harold Jones, Ruth Ellingboe.

Refreshment—Ida Holden, Ethel Campbell, Edie McCloskey, Jone Rowley.

Entertainment—Gertrude McGarry, Beatrice Peters, Irene Cardie. Plans were launched at once for the first celebration of the season. The members of the class hope to make this year one of the most important epochs in its history.

Hauser-Soens

The wedding of John N. Hauser and Emma Bertha Soens took place this morning at the manse of the Presbyterian church at 9:30 o'clock, Rev. W. J. Lowrie officiating.

The young couple are both from Minneapolis and in company with a brother of the bride were driving through Brainerd looking for land in this locality for farming and sheep raising purposes. The groom is now working at his trade of sheet metal worker.

Witnesses of the ceremony were Rudolph Soens and Mrs. W. J. Lowrie.

Sophomore Class

The Sophomore class of the Brainerd high school had a wiener roast at the river flats Friday night after school. The lunch consisted of wieners, potato salad, buns, pickles, cookies and coffee.

One of the most exciting incidents that occurred was when one of the most charming girls of the class walked away with one of the most prominent boys with the whole class in pursuit. Everyone had an enjoyable time and were ready to go home at 8 o'clock.

The Lilac Tree.

The lilac is perhaps, all things considered, the most splendid of flowering trees. Everybody is familiar with its fragrance. The tree belongs to the olive family and is closely allied to the common privet, but it bears no fleshy fruit and is valueless except for the splendor of its blossoms.

A Foley Cathartic Tablet is a prompt and safe remedy for sick headache, biliousness, bloating, sour stomach, gas, bad breath, indigestion, constipation, or other condition caused by clogged or irregular bowels. They cause no griping or nausea nor will they encourage the "pill habit." Just fine for persons too stout. H. P. Dunn.

High Cost of Living?
Here's a Nightgown That Cost Only 37½ Cents.

Merely a suggestion to lower the much discussed high cost of living. The nightgown this woman is wearing cost her exactly 37½ cents and experts tell us it is equal to the best $3.50 nightgown bought at retail prices. The ingenious woman made it out of sugar sacks, dyed it a delicate pink, and then embroidered it.

MISS ADELAIDE SEDGWICK

Serving in a London war hospital was altogether too tame for pretty Miss Adelaide Sedgwick of New York, so the young lady transferred her activities to France, where she ran a canteen for British soldiers near Calais. Here Miss Sedgwick had thrills enough to last a lifetime, for the German aviators bombed the vicinity nightly. Miss Sedgwick's canteen served 600 soldiers a day. She has been commended by the British government for her work.

Hotel's Famous "Royal Suite."

On the wall of the so-called "royal suite" in the old Revere house, Boston, Mass., hung a decorated shield bearing the names of distinguished guests: Jenny Lind, 1850; Daniel Webster, 1850; prince of Wales, 1890; Patri, 1890; Parepa, 1895; Christine Nilsson, 1870; Grand Duke Alexis, 1871; King Kulekusa, 1875 and Emperor Dom Pedro, 1876. But, even if the hotel had remained in operation, the present prince of Wales, coming to Boston, would hardly have gone there for his temporary dwelling place. For a good many years the old hotel has stood as a survival, in a part of the city where distinguished travelers were no longer among the common sights; and now it goes out of business. But, in its time, it was proud of that "royal suite."

Look for the Best.

Every man and woman on earth has some good quality, if you will only take the trouble to look for it.

DESIGNS FOR FALL

More Width Is the Decree of Leaders of Fashion.

Extensive Choice Will Be Allowed
Wearers in the Selection of Favorite Goods and Colors.

The phrase that sums up the new fashions for the autumn is "more width." There is a very distinct movement on foot to get away from the narrow, constricted styles. Paris never adopted the lead-pencil silhouette with its long tight skirt that was used by some American houses. To the easy width that they have been using they have added even more fullness, in tunics, circular skirts, gathered skirts and hip draperies. The most distinct departure in the styles is the circular tunic, circular flounce and circular skirt. This new cut not only gives more width, but a new silhouette, because there is a flare at the bottom. For street dresses these skirt styles will be used in tricotine, soft twills, light-weight duvetyne, serge, gabardine, broadcloth, checks and plaids. The same materials will be used for the chemise dresses which Paris goes on creating with fresh variety and interesting details in the way of new vests, tucked skirts, etc. For afternoon dresses the smartest materials will be the satin-finished silks like satin, charmeuse and crepe meteor. Faille and moire will also be good, because they have a certain stiffness and body which accents the new silhouette. Taffeta will be used, but will not be as fashionable as satin. These same silk materials will be employed for evening, for the theater and for dancing dresses. For their most formal evening gowns older women will use the velvet and metal brocades and metal cloths, while young girls and debutantes will use tulle, chiffon, georgette or net as well as the soft silks and satins.

For day dresses there will be the short sleeve, the open neck, either collarless or with one of the new stand-away or plaited collars, the long blouse, the redingote styles, the use of multicolored skirts, versions of the vest, and the draped hip-length body that suggests the line of the figure.

The wide circular skirts are used for street dresses, afternoon dresses and evening gowns, but not for suits. For the suit there is a slightly wider skirt with straight lines, but with no unnecessary width, which would be burdensome in walking. For the suits the coats are also cut on a straight silhouette, even when there is the effect of soft fullness that you get in the new blouse coats. The autumn suits will be made on more tailored lines, especially when they are used for hacking and walking. You will find them at their smartest in striped and checked materials, in men's-wear mixtures, tweed, oxford and covert cloth. They are also made of serge, poplin, gabardine, tricotine and twills. These last materials can be used for either the tailored or the semitailored suit, and for the latter there are also the duvetyne, velveteens, wool velours, meltons, camel-hair cloth and broadcloth. The very long belted coat is used by the French houses and is extremely good looking.—From Delineator.

NEW DESIGN FOR SMART BAG

Receptacle Will Be at Its Best in Black and Gold Ribbon, or Silver Brocade.

This bag is extremely smart and at the same time very easily made. It looks particularly well in ribbon of black and gold or silver brocade, as in our sketch.

One yard of ribbon is required about 9 inches wide. This you double in halves wrong side out, and stitch up both sides within 7 inches of the top, and turn out.

Next cut lining same shape, allowing ½-inch turnings. This you also join within 7 inches of top. Place this inside bag. Now get a bone ring, either in black or color, and put one side of the bag through; after this is done, stitch to the other side, making a seam in the ordinary way, with turnings wrong side. Join up your lining in the same way, seeing that your turnings are outside, so that when lining and ribbon are placed together both lining and bag are perfectly neat, with bone ring between both.

All that is now required is to slip-stitch opening at sides of bag neatly together, when the bag will be ready for use.

POPULAR BLACK AND WHITE

Old but Always Effective Combination
Is Here Again, Only Just a Little Different.

Every once in a while—every season at least—the fashion authorities come out with what appears to be the astounding news that black and white is very much the vogue. The fact is, the mixture combination is perennially smart, only there are mangles and mangles.

The present black-and-white combination is just a little different from anything that you have ever worn before. It is most striking when it takes the form of a black taffeta slip with a sheer lace and organdie overdress. The black silk is not very extensive. The skirt is scant and as short as you feel is consistent with the present fashion and the waist rarely extends many inches above the belt, as a flesh-colored georgette is quite apt to take its place for the foundation of the shoulder and sleeve portions.

The white organdie and lace takes the form of a peplum or plastron on the skirt, and comes up sometimes in V's on the bodice. But there is a wide diversity and the skill of the designer is taxed in thinking of new and interesting ways of combining this white over black.

These black-and-white frocks lend themselves particularly well to garden party or other outdoor occasions, and you are wise if you plan to include one on your week-end visit to the country, because they will stand up better after packing than the frock that is all organdie and all sheer. And just at present they have considerably more distinction than any other sort of afternoon frock.

For more practical wear there is nothing so fetching at present as the black satin or taffeta frock that has cuffs and deep shawl collar or gilet of tucked organdie or embroidered mull or some sort of sheer cotton fabric with fillet insets. For the woman who wants to do a clever little piece of dressmaking at home and who wants a practical but smart about-town dress, a very good way to begin would be to get a fairly elaborate finger's gilet and work up to it with thin black taffeta.

OPPOSITION NOTICED

Brother Halstead of the Brainerd Tribune is catching fits from the newspaper brethren all over this part of the state for opposing the Babcock good roads law. The Tribune is the only paper in the state outside the Townley controlled Socialist papers that is against this valuable road proposition, so far as can be learned. Perish the thought that Bro. Halstead is just getting in training for a leap onto the Townley wagon.—Staples World.

STARTED IN JOKE

Explanation of Story of Roosevelt's Hard Drinking.

Colonel Informed Group of Newspaper Men How the Rumor Originated—Jesting Remark Caused All the Trouble.

Few things in Colonel Roosevelt's later life are fresher in the public memory than his suit against a Michigan editor who accused him of drunkenness, writes John J. Henry, Jr., in McClure's. The unfortunate editor, unable to produce a scintilla of proof, admitted his fault, and so far as the records go, the matter was disposed of. There was nothing developed, however, to show where the tale started or what foundation, if any, it might have had.

Colonel Roosevelt, however, had an explanation. He gave it to us one afternoon in the trophy room in Oyster Bay; when passing the cigars around, he remarked that he would vouch for the quality. "They must be good," he remarked, "for they're some of Leonard Wood's. I never smoke myself, so I have to rely on the judgment of others."

"Did you ever smoke?" some one asked. "There is where that story of my drinking started," he continued, not hearing the question or ignoring it. "You see, when I would decline a cigar, saying I did not smoke, folks would often ask, in a joking way: 'What are your bad habits?' In the same spirit I would reply 'Prize fighting and strong drink.'"

"Now, it so happens that the Lord in his infinite wisdom elected to create some folks with whom it is never safe to joke—solemn asses who lack a sense of humor. I am very fond of that story of Sidney Smith's who, playing with his children, stopped suddenly, saying: 'Children, we must now be serious—here comes a fool.' You know the kind he meant—those poor unfortunates who must take everything said to them literally."

"One of these to whom I made that remark said: 'Roosevelt, I hear drinks hard.' The other fool replied, 'Yes, that's true. He told me so himself.'"

"And so it went." "That is all there ever was to the talk of my drinking. From that start it spread and spread until, in self-defense, I was compelled to take action to stop it. Some folks have said I went out of my way to find a little editor who could not defend himself. The fact is, he was the one editor I could hold to account. There were and are editors nearer New York I gladly would have sued under like circumstances, but they knew better than to print what they knew was untrue. Had any one of them done so I would have hauled them up short, and with much more glee than I did the Michigan man, for the men I have in mind have real malice toward me, and he, I am satisfied, had none."

"We parted good friends. I certainly had nothing against him. In his zeal to do things, he put in print what shrewd and really malicious men who would harm him if they could, dare not do. I believe he was honestly sorry when he found his error."

"However, the thing had its value. We're never too old to learn, and I learned to be careful with whom I cracked the simplest joke. Thank God, there are many who can joke with in safety. If we couldn't laugh once in a while what a world this would be! It wouldn't be a world—it would be a mad-house."

Simon Lake Is Man Who Claims He Has Devised Perfect Salvaging Submarine—Will Seek Gold Long Under Water.

With the waters of the Atlantic ocean swashing over his head, Simon Lake, submarine inventor, expects to excavate the bottom of Long Island sound, off Port Morris, N. Y., and try to salvage $5,000,000 gold bullion from the treasure chests of the H. M. S. Huzzar. The treasure has nestled on the bottom for 119 years.

If Lake desires, he says, he will be able to smoke a cigar, sing a song and twang a ukulele on the bottom of the ocean while the treasure is being recovered with a new salvaging submarine machine which he has just perfected.

The story of the Huzzar and its buried gold is as romantic as any sea yarn ever spun by Jules Verne or Robert Louis Stevenson. It begins at a date when pirates roved the Atlantic, and promises to end with a submarine climax.

Chapter 1 shows the British warship Huzzar, launched about the year 1700, to the pop of a wine bottle. From this point the story carries the wind-jammer through the adventurous times when Captain Kidd might be found at any time hiding behind the next wave, and narrates her exploits as a utility vessel in the British navy.

The last trip of the proud Huzzar was when she started to the American colonies in 1780, carrying a cargo of golden wealth in her hold. In making the waters of the harbor, at a time when Hell Gate was not adequately charted, she struck a rock and stove a hole in her bottom. She tried to make shore, but didn't, and sank off Port Morris. The treasure, which was to have paid off the soldiers of the crown, sank with her.

Thirty years ago a company was organized on Staten Island to attempt the salvage of the Huzzar gold. The most accomplished diver of the day spent much time in the water. He succeeded in bringing up a hard oak rib of the ship and a few coins of little value, and then was forced to give up his efforts. The experiment cost the salvage company $20,000.

The oaken rib of the good ship Huzzar was worn stiff, but it was saved diagonally, and just enough good wood was recovered to make two canes. One of these canes is now in the possession of C. F. Lester of Brooklyn.

Just when Simon Lake will begin operations to salvage the Huzzar gold has not been made public.

'WORK AND SAVE' IS MOTTO NOW

Slogan for Ninth District in Campaign to Destroy High Living Cost.

DETERMINED EFFORT

People Must Produce More Than They Spend Before Prices Can Come Down—Liberty Loan Organization Active.

October sixth, the first anniversary of the Fourth and in many ways the greatest Liberty Loan campaign, has been fixed for an intensive effort to sell $100 and $1,000 Treasury Savings Certificates in every county of the Ninth Federal Reserve District. The appeal a year ago was the destruction of Germany's fighting force. This year it will be the destruction of high prices.

"Work and Save" is the motto of the District War Savings Organization. Through its county and wide-spread society organizations, a determined effort will be made to convert this motto into action throughout the six states of the Ninth District. Those in charge are so firmly convinced that the putting into force of these cardinal principles of thrift is the most practical and with the least possible disturbance. We want to reduce the present high cost of living and to get things back on a substantial and prosperous peace basis with the least possible trouble and delay.

"In order to do these things, it is necessary for the people generally to change their present way of spending. People are still experiencing a reaction from the forced thrift of war times and as a rule are spending recklessly. I believe that one of the principal causes of the present high cost of living is, as someone has expressed it, 'the cost of high living.' If we are to pay our debts and get back to a normal basis, we must all practice economy of time, labor and money; we must save and invest wisely. I will not enter into an economic discussion of the subject. There are undoubtedly many other reasons for the present high prices, but I think you will agree with me in this—that the only way of permanently bettering our condition is by practicing thrift."

Spend Wisely and Save.

"As you know, the Government realizes this fact and is conducting a nation-wide campaign of thrift education and the sale of War Savings Stamps and other Government securities. In order to make this campaign effective, it must be popularized. This can only be done by inducing a large number of people to spend wisely and save. You know the majority of people will not do this unless they are impressed with the necessity of it and are induced to join with their neighbors in investing in Government securities. In this way they will prevent their surplus money from being spent for non-essentials and luxuries. For this reason, we are convinced that an intensive effort to sell Government tical and effective way of combating general H. C. L. that they have decided upon an intensive campaign in an effort to focus public attention on these principles and, by a wide-spread sale of Government securities, to induce savings and popularize thrift.

Wisely Feathered Nests

Produce More—Spend Less. "The people of America must produce more than they spend before the law of supply and demand can operate to reduce prices," said M. E. Harrison, District War Savings Director. "In other words, they must stop extravagance, spend wisely and save. To pound home this point is at present the most important part of the established program of the Savings Division of the Treasury Department. We will do this through the schools and industrial societies, through our personal workers and speakers in all parts of the district, through literature and the press."

Campaign to Be Intensive. "We believe an intensive campaign to sell Treasury Savings Certificates," continued Mr. Harrison, "will do much to emphasize the importance of thrift, to popularize the idea and thus help to prepare the public mind to receive the benefits of the permanent campaign for Thrift education. Hence the October 6th campaign."

The old Liberty Loan County Organizations have been asked to take charge of the campaign. Governor Wold of the Federal Reserve Bank has approved the plan. A. R. Rogers, District Chairman for four Liberty Loan drives, has personally written each chairman, asking his active participation in the work. Mr. Rogers, in making this request, said:

A. R. Rogers' Appeal. "You and I, as stockholders in the United States Corporation, want to get our debts paid as soon as possible securities should be made in your county and every other county in the Ninth District.

"Everyone admits that the Ninth District Liberty Loan Organization was a most effective organization. It has, therefore, been proposed that this organization be asked to conduct in each county of the Ninth District a one day's intensive selling campaign for $100 and $1,000 savings certificates, of 'Savings Bonds,' as we like to term them. This meets with my hearty approval."

Campaign to Help. "I believe by carrying on such a campaign, our old organization will be in a way perpetuated and will give proof of its efficiency for patriotic work in peace as well as in war. I think that such a campaign properly carried on in each county will help very greatly in the sale of these securities."

"Increased sales will relieve the Treasury Department of just that much financing work by the sale of Certificates of Indebtedness to the banks and will release just that much money for industrial development. I believe that it will result in calling people's attention to the value of the Government securities as an investment and will tend to popularize thrift as a 'happy habit.' Moreover, it will materially aid in the reduction of the high cost of living and decrease social and political unrest."

Is Your County Organized? "The response has been fine," said Mr. Harrison. "Many of the old county groups cannot be again completely reorganized, but where the Liberty Loan chairman and workers cannot, for one reason or another, do the active work, the War Savings Chairman will direct it, and with the co-operation of all War Loan workers, will get fine results."

AMUSEMENTS

At the Best Today and Tomorrow

It is estimated that more than five million persons have witnessed the stage presentation of the Harvard prize play, "Common Clay," by Cleves Kinkead and produced by A. H. Woods, under whose management with Jane Cowl in the stellar role. Six companies played it throughout the United States and Canada and it has the record of having made two trips from New York to the Pacific coast. It has earned a tremendous amount of newspaper discussion and formed the theme of addresses from hundreds of pulpits, because it has to do with one of the most vital of our social problems—the proper rearing and care of The Girl, especially in large cities.

Mr. Woods' screen production of this powerful romance with all of the facilities that the camera offers for broader and more realistic treatment, will, it is said, appeal even more profoundly than the play itself. It will go straight to the heart and conscience of every woman who sees it, not only because of the story itself but also because of the sure artistic interpretation of it by a specially selected cast of players, including such well-known names as Mary Alden, W. E. Lawrence, Helen Dunbar, Andrew Arbuckle, John Barrows, John H. Cossett, Fred Goodwins and Easter Walters. They give a flawless performance of the seven-reel Pathe special, which will be shown at the Best theatre today and tomorrow.

French Study of War History.

Visitors in Paris have a new place of interest in the opening of the Bibliotheque et Musée de la Guerre. The new war library and museum had its inception in a realization of the importance of beginning as soon as possible a collection of historic material. Although one purpose is to provide a permanent exhibition for the benefit of the general public, another is the accumulation of material from which the history of the war may be written.

It is now known that, early in the war, Germany began plans to attract the historians of the future to Berlin in order that they should do their work in an atmosphere sympathetic to Germany. The course of events, however, has been such as to make the cautious historian distrustful of German documentary evidence, and much history will doubtless be written in the new French institution.

Money and Advice.

"I have called to borrow some money."

"I cannot lend you money but I'll give you some good advice."

"That won't do. I want to borrow money from you so I can go out and pay a lawyer for some real advice."

Early Training.

"Why have you never married, Mr. Tompkins?"
 "I suppose it's because I took the bachelor's degree while at college."—Boston Transcript.

Wheat Always Preferred Food.

While more people are living in the world today dependent upon rice than upon wheat for subsistence and a greater number of the human family live upon millet than any other cereal food, wheat is the preferred food among the higher civilized peoples. The more progressive peoples of the earth have ever been wheat eaters. Grains of wheat have been discovered in Egyptian tombs of the first dynasty, dating back 4,000 B. C., while bread of wheat has been excavated from the ruins of the prehistoric lake dwellers of Wagner and Robenhausen in Switzerland.

Your Mental Picture of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana)

Is it a thoroughly lubricated machine, owned and controlled by one man, who is able to manipulate it as he sees fit with figure-heads to do his bidding by push button control?—

OR—

Is it an organization of men animated by ideals of service, human sympathies, and a far seeing understanding of conditions in a highly specialized branch of industry?

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is owned and controlled by 4549 stockholders, not one holding as much as 10 percent of the total stock.

It is managed by 7 men, who, individually, have won their way to the top by giving each day the kind of service which the public found it profitable to pay for.

The policy of the Company in its relation to the public is laid down by these 7 men, which is to render the individual consumer in the eleven states served by the Company the kind of service they demand and find it profitable to pay for.

It is the earnest desire of these 7 men, holding the trusteeship of management, to intensify the usefulness to the public of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), and to broaden the scope of its service so that the Company may discharge its obligations as a public servant in a manner satisfactory to the stockholders and beneficial to the world at large.

$7,500 SUIT FILED AGAINST THE CITY

Chris Mathison as Administrator of Estate of Clifford Mathison Sues City, Doctor, Nurses

BOY DIED OF INFLUENZA

Charges He Did Not Receive Proper Care and Treatment, Answer of City a General Denial

The city of Brainerd has been made a defendant in a $7,500 damage suit brought by Chris Mathison, as administrator of the estate of his late son, Clifford Mathison. Joined with the city in the list of defendants are Dr. Earl Jamison, and two nurses Miss Edith Phillips and Miss Marie M. Krekelberg, which latter name on stipulation was corrected to O. M. Krekelberg.

From records shown it appears that young Clifford entered the emergency hospital December 6, 1918 and died December 12, 1918. The whole family appeared to have had influenza, as other patients were the mother Mrs. C. Mathison, and children Lucille, Willard and Daisy. Their residence at that time was given as 1320 Oak street.

The complaint recites that prior to December, 1918 the city of Brainerd created, established and maintained a certain hospital for profits in Brainerd for the purpose of receiving sick persons.

It is further asserted the nurses had charge of the hospital.

On December 6, says the complaint, Clifford Mathison had the influenza and became an inmate of the hospital "and that it was the duty of the city of Brainerd as owner of the hospital and the said nurses to furnish to the plaintiff's intestate suitable care and attention and to watch and guard over his welfare and safety, and to give to plaintiff's intestate his medicine at stated times, and such other and appropriate care as the nature of the case demanded."

On December 5, 1918, it is alleged the plaintiff employed Dr. Earl Jamison as physician and surgeon.

The complaint further charges that the city of Brainerd "disregarded its duty and wrongfully failed and neglected to give the boy proper care and carelessly neglected to change the bed linen and suffered and allowed him to wander about the hospital in a delirious condition half clad and wholly failed and neglected to exercise proper supervision over its subordinates but suffered them to grossly neglect their respective duties toward the boy."

It is further charged in the complaint that the nurses named "wantonly and carelessly failed and neglected to see that the boy received proper care, permitted him to lie for days at a time in a soiled bed, and negligently refused to give him his medicine and suffered him while in a delirious condition to wander around the hall half clad."

It is charged in the complaint that "Dr. Jamison disregarded his duty by leaving the boy while he was in a dangerous and critical condition for four days and failed to provide for another physician while he was absent."

That because of the negligent acts of city and three individuals named the complainant brings suits for $7,500 damages. He further alleges the value of funeral and burial expenses amounted to $150.

The complaint is signed by Charles W. Scrutchin, of Bemidji, as attorney for Mathison.

The case will come up at the November term of the district court, City Attorney H. F. Fullerton appearing for the city. It is also stated Dr. Jamison will be represented by counsel.

To Speak Tonight

Lester Barlow, inventor of the Barlow bombs which were extensively used by the allied armies during the world's war, will address a meeting tonight, Sept. 22, at 7:30 o'clock in Trades & Labor hall, Iron Exchange building.

Mr. Barlow may be remembered as one who testified before the United States senate military committee and before Judge Hughes in the graft charge investigation in the air craft department. The general public is invited to this meeting.

All returned soldiers and sailors are especially invited to attend this meeting, as the "World's War Veterans" will be organized by Mr. Barlow.

CRANKS CAR; DIES WITHIN 15 MINUTES

Chas. E. Weitgenant, well known farmer living five miles east of Rice, died Thursday after an illness of 15 minutes, at the close of a celebration at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Thomas, at which the returned service men were being entertained by the Rice Farmers club.

At a short time after 12 o'clock Mr. Weitgenant, who had attended the gathering with his wife and five children went out to crank his car. Nearly all the other guests had gone. After turning the engine over once he started to cough. He cranked the car again, and again began to cough so that he was obliged to lean against the car. The paroxysm continued until he burst a blood vessel and died within 15 minutes. He had been subject to coughing spells since he had an attack of the flu last year.

Threatened With Arrest

It just leaked out that W. J. Grinols while at Brainerd some time ago was mighty close to having the law on him as he picked up an unusually large sized ladies coat button on the sidewalk.

The keeper of the cemetery at Brainerd claims to be some sort of an officer of the law, and noting that Mr. Grinols picked up something that looked like a purse at a distance, accused Bill of violating the peace and dignity of the city of Brainerd. Mr. Grinols promptly told the impersonator something in pretty plain language, and then even went so far as to invite the custodian of the sleeping city to something lively, which the latter declined. Before the wordy war was over quite a large crowd gathered and they had a lot of sport at the expense of the officer who keeps the evergreen green at the cemetery.—Pine River Sentinel-Blaze.

South Long Lake Club Met With Otto Wendt, 85 Percent Took up Farm Topics

TWIN LAKE FARMERS' CLUB

Met at Home of F. G. Cutler—Boys' and Girls' Potato Contest Staged at Duluth

The South Long Lake Farmers' club met for their monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wendt and an unusually large attendance was present. The house was taxed to its utmost. All enjoyed a sociable evening and many topics of interest were taken up for consideration. Among these were silo construction, rural telephone organization, farmers' clubs, crop growing and Farm Bureau work. Discussion on the different topics showed a variety of opinions. A lively discussion on the relative destructiveness of quack grass, Canada thistle, and the butter and egg plant took place.

After the meeting the ladies served an excellent lunch in which every one took an active part. 85 were present at this meeting which was one of the largest and most interesting meetings held this season. The members decided to come to the rural telephone meeting held Saturday at the Chamber of Commerce rooms en masse.

The meeting adjourned at 12 o'clock to meet at Simon Frederickson's the first Saturday in October.

Twin Lakes Farmers' Club

The Twin Lakes Farmers' club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Cutler on the west shore of Sibley lake. Owing to the large amount of silos being constructed by this club, the smallest turnout for the season met on this date. Usually the attendance averages around 100 while this time only thirty including everybody, were present.

A very entertaining program was given. Mrs. Borst and Mr. Smith sang and gave a mandolin and piano duet. Miss Cutler then gave a reading entitled, "Making His Way." County Agent E. G. Roth took up potato marketing and seed selection, emphasizing the fact that digging time was the time to select potatoes, as at this time you can pick from the hills that are best producing.

The picnic lunch which is a feature of this club at every meeting was enjoyed by all. There was plenty for everybody and left everyone in a good temper. After visiting and looking over the improvements on the farm, the meeting came to an end at five o'clock.

Boys' and Girls' Potato Contest

Any boy or girl in Crow Wing county who has complied with the requirements for club contest work in potatoes is entitled to enter for the potato contest in the N. M. D. A. potato show to take place Nov. 3rd and 4th at Duluth.

The boy or girl wishing to exhibit at this potato show should give their name and address together with the kind of potato grown to the county agent as soon as possible. Prizes amounting to $300 will be awarded for club contest work.

There are plenty of chances to win and there are plenty of prize potatoes in Crow Wing county.

Jewish Sabbath

The Jewish Sabbath starts at sunset on Friday, because the Jews, like the ancient Greeks, began their day at sunset and not at sunrise, or immediately after midnight, as we do, who follow the ancient Romans.

Brown and Orange Shades in Millinery

The richness of these two shades when used together, eliminates the necessity of further trimming on many beautiful Fall Hats. Chic turbans have crowns of orange velvet with draped folds of brown velvet shaping the hat. Smart off-the-face styles show upper brim facings of orange velvet.

Coq Feathers are a Favorite Trimming

The idea of Paris Designers in using these feathers of the national bird of France is to give an iridescent touch to crowns of tailored Hats and and relieve their usual severity. A graceful sweep of these feathers passes around the crown or separate feathers form the crown itself. You will want one of these charming little Hats with this new Coq trimming.

The Flowing Tide.

No one, however great his genius or high his position, is all-important to the world; its work will go on without him. There may be ripples and disturbances in the current for a time where he sinks out of sight, but the tide will soon be flowing on as before. This truth may be painful to personal vanity, but it is comforting to every generous soul that cares more for others than for self.

"Good Stickers."

There are some practical "make-shifts" for mullage. The white of an egg will be found quite as good for sealing letters. Another substitute is a cold boiled potato rubbed over the paper.

LABOR NEWS

IN THE LABOR WORLD

The Winnipeg (Manitoba) Trades and Labor council almost unanimously voted in favor of the "one big union."

Germany finds that propaganda is not so attractive when viewed from the muzzle end.

Norwalk (O.) telephone girls who threatened to strike decided to continue work when the two companies offered an increase in wages and other concessions.

Denver's street car strike ended, following a conference between Mayor Dewey C. Bailey, his cabinet and Charles Boettcher, chairman of the board of directors of the Denver Tramway company.

Twenty-five freight engineers of the Cincinnati-New Orleans & Texas Pacific railroad between Danville, Ky., and Oakdale, Tenn., went on strike as a protest against the use of the big Mogul engines.

From the wide variety of opinions about the labor situation, it seems to be clear that labor is at least poorly distributed, with some localities full of jobless men and others suffering from manless jobs.

The Tri-Mountain, Baltic, Champion and Michigan Smelting companies, Houghton, Mich., announced a resumption of a former high scale of wages in effect before June 15. This means an increase in pay to 3,000 copper mining employees.

Benjamin Schlesinger, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, has addressed a letter to 150 Chicago manufacturers of women's waists asking for a conference to look into alleged grievances of the workers. He says they want a 44-hour week, a union scale of wages, and better working conditions.

By an award signed on June 30 by Judge Snider of Hamilton and Fred Bancroft of Toronto, over 400 boot and shoe workers employed in three large Toronto factories obtain a 46½-hour week, with increased pay for hourly piece-workers, in proportion to the reduction of hours, time and a half for overtime, with wages dating back to May 1 for two factories and June 1 for one.

It is learned that Henry Ford has decided to increase the minimum wage of Ford Motor company employees to $7 per day. More than 30,000 employees will be affected by the increase. The present minimum wage of $6 a day was fixed January 1 last. The Detroit Journal says it is proposed through the reorganization of the Ford Motor company to make it possible for employees to share in the dividends.

The National Brotherhood of Operative Potters issued an official statement from headquarters that 8,000 pottery workers in the United States will submit a demand for a 25 per cent wage increase to the manufacturers at a meeting in September. The present wage scale expires October 1, and in addition to the increase the new scale will contain a provision for an eight-hour day with four working hours on Saturdays.

Conductors and motormen of the Indianapolis Street Railway company have received an increase of 3 cents an hour. The new schedule ranges from 37 to 42 cents an hour. The company estimates that the increase will amount to $125,000 annually. In announcing the increase the company says it "will rely on the co-operation of those in authority to grant additional revenues, which will be required to enable the company to discharge its full obligations."

Demands of union corset workers of Bridgeport, Conn., for wage increases and improved working conditions were met with the announcement of the Warner Brothers company that the factory, employing 2,500 hands, will be closed indefinitely. The plant is the largest corset manufacturing firm in Bridgeport, which has three others, each employing less than 500. The union workers asked for a 50 per cent increase in wages and substitution of the 44-hour week for the present 48-hour schedule.

The waiters' strike at Paris, France, has been settled, an agreement being reached between representatives of the strikers and the employers at the ministry of labor. All cafes and restaurants reopened.

A minimum wage of $16.50 a week for women employed in all mercantile establishments in Washington, has been agreed upon by a conference of employers and workers which was called by the minimum wage board of the District of Columbia. The scale is said to be the highest yet reached through minimum wage legislation for women.

Pleased at Her Appearance.
Jane was busy entertaining herself by looking at the photograph album. Soon she came across a picture of herself taken when she was a tiny, bald-headed baby, and in all earnestness she said: "What a tummy! homely baby!"

Not So Old as She Looks
Women do not like to look older than they really are. Neither do men. Both sexes are subject to kidney trouble, and kidney trouble makes the middle aged look old. Foley Kidney Pills act promptly to restore weak, overworked or disordered kidneys and bladder to a healthy condition and banish lameness, aches and pains. H. P. Dunn. mwf

Who Gets the Profit from Rents?

The owner, of course, else why should he build? Furnishing homes for others is not philanthropy with the average investor who rightfully expects a profit.

If rent brings profit to a landlord, why not be one yourself? Why not build a home to suit your needs and desires? Then let your rent apply on the purchase.
